
Profile:
Gov. Amador Z. Tolentino, Jr.
IBP Southern Luzon Region

At the young age of 44, Atty. Amador Z. Tolentino, Jr., the son of two school teachers, has already donned many hats, not only in his chosen profession, but in other areas outside of law as well. He is a product of the University of the Philippines, obtaining his Philosophy and Law degrees from the State University.

Governor Tolentino divides his time being the incumbent IBP Governor for Southern Luzon (2009-2011) and President of the Rotary Club of Parañaque Southwest (2009-2010). Gov. Ador sees no conflict in holding these two positions. In fact, he effectively intertwines the expectations and challenges of these two offices, both being service-oriented organizations dedicated to upholding truth, integrity and fairness.

He is no stranger to the rigors of IBP involvement. Gov. Tolentino was past President of the Parañaque-Pasay City-Las Pinas-Muntinlupa Chapter and former Delegate to two Annual Conventions of the IBP House of Delegates. He likewise served as Chairman of various national and local level committees, and was Investigating Commissioner of the IBP Commission on Bar Discipline (2007 to 2009). Outside of the IBP, he is a Charter Member and Member of the Board of Trustees of both the Muntinlupa and Las Piñas Bar Associations.

Gov. Ador is currently a senior partner of the Tolentino Corvera Macasaet & Reig law firm which specializes in civil, criminal and labor law litigation, as well as corporate law, estate planning and settlement, among others.

Born in Pinili, Ilocos Norte, he is happily married to the former Evelyn Salomon, and they have two adoring children, Angelica Rosanna (19) and Alexander Raphael (6).
